Gallery Players are proud to present a rare opportunity to see the stage adaptation by Chris Sergel of Harper Lee's Pulitzer Prize winning novel To Kill A Mockingbird.

Harper Lee's classic novel sold over 30 million copies worldwide, and is a book many people will recall reading with great fondness.

The stage adaptation by Chris Sergel does not disappoint; it is a powerful piece of theatre which explores how the innocence of childhood battles bigotry and prejudice. Many know it as the 1962 Oscar winning film starring Gregory Peck

The place is Maycomb, Alabama in the Great Depression years of the 1930s. Momentous events unfold through the eyes of eight year old Scout Finch, growing up in a close knit neighbourhood with her older brother Jem and their summertime visitor Dill. When their father Atticus Finch, a well respected lawyer, mounts a vigorous and compelling case for the defence of Tom Robinson, a poor black man accused of the rape of a young white girl, an idyllic world of childhood is changed forever.

Through the drama of the trial and its aftermath comes a searching examination of freedom, justice, honesty and hypocrisy. Please join us for a compelling, deeply moving story told with warmth and humour. Steve Wooldridge directs with his usual flair.
